EVENT SPACE: SPONZA PALACE ATRIUM

Located at the eastern entrance to Stradun, the Sponza Palace survived a major earthquake in 1667 and it is a rare example of the Gothic-Renaissance style in Dubrovnik. Formerly used as a customs house and warehouse, as well as the mint and armory of the Republic, today Sponza is home to the State Archives in Dubrovnik. In the area around atrium in the open air there is an exhibition of copies of the most relevant documents of the Archive, some as old as 11. century. The beautiful and spacious atrium of the palace is often used as a space for exhibitions and events. Please note that the space is not suitable for congresses, but for events such as exhibitions, weddings, etc.
